Author Father Gross Receives 'A Century of Catholic Essay'

The Rev. Raphael H. Gross, C.P.P.S., assistant professor of English at St. Joseph's, has just received pre-publication copies of his book, "A Century of the Catholic Essay." Father Gross had completed this book some time ago, but because of a shortage of paper and other materials during the war, it has just been published by the J. B. Lippincott Company, Philadelphia, Penna. The book will be on sale in the book store October 23. The price is $3.50.

Freshmen Lead All Other Classes

Final tabulation from the office of the registrar reveals that there are 514 students enrolled. Of these, 323 are freshmen. Sophomores number sixty-four; Juniors, thirty-nine; seniors, thirty-four.

Included in the total number are forty-eight college students who are taking their pre-philosophy work before entering St. Charles Seminary to continue there toward the priesthood in the Society of the Precious Blood. Besides these, there are eighteen others in pre-philosophy.

Veterans on the campus outnumber even the freshman class—329 in all—or slightly over sixty-four percent of the total enrollment. About twenty of these are married and live in Rensselaer.

100-Voice Chorus For Fall Musical

A hundred voice chorus, attained by combination of the college and Xavier Glee Clubs, will place the coming Fall Musical on an all-time high basis. The decision was reached by the Rev. Lawrence Heiman, C.P.P.S., director, after he tested the number of members and the talent sufficiently to see if they would warrant such a production.

The entire Glee Club presentation will be devoted to American music. Selections on the club's repertoire, both classical and popular, will be interpretative of period and phase.

John Goetz Presides

As it was the first business meeting of the year it was imperative that officers be elected when the Albertus Magnus Science Society met Oct. 10. John Goetz was elected president, and Chester Scrabacz vice-president. Herman Reas was chosen secretary; Vasco Luchi, treasurer; William Jackson will be the historian.

Before the meeting was adjourned, tentative plans for the coming year were discussed. These include, in part, a science day and also a field trip.

The essays found in A Century of the Catholic Essay are gathered from Fr. Gross' life-long interest in literature, extensive academic training, and experience as a teacher.

A Century of the Catholic Essay brings Catholic essayists into the foreground for the general reader, and provides a varied assortment of humorous and stimulating pieces by outstanding writers of the past century, including Hilaire Belloc, G. K. Chesterton, Agnes Repplier, Joyce Kilmer, Joseph Conrad, Joel Chandler Harris, Alfred Noyes, and Cardinal Newman.

Contemporaries Included

The book combines high entertainment and serious thought. The final section is concerned with the writings of eminent Catholics of the present day, including Robert J. Benson, and Monsignor Fulton Sheen.

To the reader who wishes a valuable and educational insight into the minds of the great Catholic writers, this book is highly recommended.

Fr. Gross was graduated in 1932 from St. Joseph's, and was ordained six years later at St. Charles Seminary, Carthage, Ohio. He received his M.A. in 1941 at the University of Michigan.

Prior to joining the faculty at St. Joseph's, he spent two years as assistant pastor of St. Francis, Gettysburg, Pa.

Director Calls Commerce Meet

The first meeting of the school year for the Commerce Club was held in Science Hall last Monday evening. The Rev. Cletus Dirksen, C.P.P.S., presided as moderator of the club. Fred Beckman, junior, was appointed chairman until such time as officers are elected.

Moliere's 'Misers' Picked by CLS Tryouts Held

The Miser by Moliere will be the play presented by the Columbian Literary Society this semester. Adapted for the American stage by Walter F. Kerr, it will be performed in November. It is under the direction of the Rev. Lawrence Heiman, C.P.P.S.

Tryouts for a place on the cast were held Oct. 9 for the feminine roles and the following day for male characters. Elsie the heroine, will be impersonated by Miss Helen Feldhause. Miss Janet Brusnahan and Miss Nancy York have also won a place in the cast.

Ralph Cappuccilli will head the cast as the miser, and Howard Cummings will take the part of his son. John Riley has been selected for the hero. Dave Jones as Monsieur Anselme and Don Horst as Master Simon are other characters definitely chosen. Practice will begin next week.

Members or prospective members of the C.L.S. who have had experience in working back stage or who, though inexperienced, are willing to help in any way, are asked to give their names to Father Heiman or to the secretary, Thomas Bissler.

Senior Dance in Joliet Set for October 25

St. Francis College of Joliet, Ill., has extended an invitation to all St. Joseph's students who wish to attend a dance there Friday, Oct. 25. The dance will be sponsored by the senior class.

A special bus will be used to transport the men to and from Joliet. It will leave Friday afternoon and return after the dance. Arrangements may be made through the Rev. Edward Maziarz, C.P.P.S.

About fifty girls from St. Francis College will attend the Homecoming dance this Saturday.

If everything progresses as expected, St. Joseph's newly enlarged library will be operating on a full-time schedule within a week. The Rev. Clarence J. Schuerman, C.P.P.S., librarian, said that electricians and steam-fitters will attempt to have both light and heat in the library by the end of this week.

Plasterers, who have been working in the library for over a week, are expected to have the bulk of their work completed by Sunday, also.

Homecoming Festivities Begin With Reunion, Bonfire, Talks As Team Stalks Indiana State

Dance in Renssy Armory to Highlight First St. Joseph Homecoming Since '42

With only the minor details to be taken care of, plans for a rousing, "make-it-twenty-four" Homecoming weekend are being rounded out. A favorable nod from the weatherman is all that is needed.

MEAL TICKETS

Tickets for meals in the cafeteria for guests are obtained from the business office during office hours.

Psychologically, this Saturday will provide a perfect setting for Homecoming: The Pumas have indicated by their first two performances this year that they don't intend to discontinue their winning habit—they will be seeking their twenty-fourth straight game without a defeat. Too, this will be St. Joseph's first Homecoming celebration since 1942. That the alumni will be well represented is indicated by the early hotel sellout.

Del Baker's eight-piece band from Chicago will hold forth in the Rensselaer Armory for the sport dance Saturday night. Baker, who played for many proms in the Chicago area, features the song stylings of his feminine vocalist, "Ding" Johnson. Tickets for the dance are two dollars and forty cents.

Following is the program for the week end:

FRIDAY EVENING—

7:00—Reunion of alumni and students at Drexel Hall.
8:00—Proceed to the pep rally area.
8:30—Lighting of bonfire, talks, band-music.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON AND EVENING—

1:00—Proceed to Rensselaer athletic field with band.
2:00—kick-off between St. Joe and Indiana State; entertainment at half time.
9:00 - 12:00—Homecoming

Paul Tonner to Direct Band At Rally, Game, Marching

Homecoming will present the first opportunity for the college band to give an exhibition of its playing and marching skill. Under the direction of Prof. Paul Tonner, B. M., it will lead off with the "Fight Song" and follow with other stimulating numbers. Between

Highly Acclaim Concert Pianist

Emilio Osta, who will appear here with his sister, Teresita, as the second performance in the Speckhaugh Memorial Theatre Series, is a well-known concert pianist. This appearance will be on Wednesday evening, October 30, in the college auditorium.

Of Spanish descent, he is an outstanding exponent of Spanish and Latin-American music for the piano. He is acclaimed for his sensitive and inspired interpretations of such composers as Granados, sometimes called the "Chopin of Spain," Albeniz, and Villa-Lobes. His own arrangements of Spanish and Mexican melodies and dances are also a source of delight to audiences in request periods.

Makes Debut at Seven

He began piano lessons as a child in Arizona. When he was seven-years old he made his debut in San Francisco as a child prodigy. Afterward he studied with such great teachers as Gyula Ormay, Joseph Lhevinne and Leopold Godowsky. While still in his twenties he made a tour of the world and gave concerts in South Africa, Europe, the Orient, and South America.

A great favorite with music lovers everywhere, he has rightfully been called a "poet of the piano."

Rescind Drug Traffic Code

Recent revision of the Motion Picture Association's production code dealing with illegal drug traffic has stirred a usually dormant United States citizenry into action. The original code stated, "Illegal drug traffic must never be presented."

The amended code now reads, "Illegal drug traffic must not be portrayed in such a way as to stimulate either curiosity or interest concerning the use of or traffic in such drugs; nor shall such scenes be approved which show illegal drugs or their effects in detail."

Since this is the Motion Picture's silver anniversary celebrating the production of talking pictures, it would be a fitting year for the industry to take a step ahead. However, the revision of a code such as the illegal drug code seems to be a step in the opposite direction.

The mere mention of the word drug rouses interest in most people. Now with such a powerful influence as the motion pictures using drugs as a mere plaything, that interest will become even stronger. If even one man's curiosity gets the better of him and he becomes an addict, then the whole motion picture industry will be tearing down the good name it took so long to build.

Recently the newspapers showed a great deal of interest when a popular athlete confessed to being an addict and confined himself to a sanatorium for treatment. If just one case can attract that much attention in the papers, it is hard to visualize the far-reaching effect that the pictures may have on the American public.

The Very Rev. Monsignor John J. McClafferty, executive secretary of the National Legion of Decency, was one of the first to deplore this amendment when he said, "Far from solving or lessening the drug problem, drug pictures will spawn a plague of dangerous experimentations and explorations with resultant addictions."

It is already feared that a narcotic cycle may be in the offing, since reports indicate that several companies are already planning 'dope' productions. Let us hope that all good Christians will back Msgr. McClafferty to the limit to have the amendment rescinded.

Peace - Solitude - Help

Ever since the day last summer when workers came and began tearing out the old floor in the gymnasium, there's been a lot of hubbub about the campus. Hardly a spot in Collegeville has not felt the pry of the pinch bar or the blow of the airhammer. Even the privacy of the birds back in the swamp has been invaded with the elimination of the trees that once grew in the filthy, murky water.

There is one spot, though, whose solitude has not been the least bit disturbed. Unknown to most of the new students and obviously overlooked by the rest, the Grotto dedicated to Our Lady of Lourdes still lies peacefully back in the trees of the south grove. Since 1898 she has been looking down upon priest and student alike who approach her seeking solace from the troubles of the day.

Blessed Bernadette is also there, kneeling by the brook which sprang miraculously from the rocks. Beneath the Blessed Virgin, in the hollowed-out part of the grotto, is depicted Gethsemane. Christ is shown in His agony there, illuminated by sunlight which shines through the rocks by day, and the votive candles flickering through the night.

Doubtless down through the years Our Lady has heard countless petitions and thanksgivings well up from the hearts of her faithful followers. She has kept her vigil in the south woods through several wars, a major depression and various other lesser crises. She will maintain that vigil for your crises. She will maintain that vigil for your crisis, regardless of how insignificant it may seem.

Home After Four Years

There's something about every Homecoming which makes each year's celebration seem unparalleled in the history of a school. This has been the case here at St. Joseph's in the past; it certainly holds true again this year. Doubly significant, this Homecoming marks the return to the campus of a tradition halted by the demands of war in 1942.

With America still very much on the defensive at that time, the increasing blackness of the ominous clouds of war threw a stiff block into the gaiety of the festivities. The uncertainty of the grim future weighed heavily upon minds and hearts old enough for war. That was four years ago. Those black clouds rained down their horrible storm of blood and destruction, but men who knew what was right kept on fighting for that right, and won it. Then they came home, most of them.

They're coming home again, a lot of them, this week. Stories with settings from Guadal to Tokyo and from London to Berlin will take the place of the usual hometown prattle. They'll go to the game and they'll dance.

The fight sequence in this film is termed as one of the finest ever turned out. Unobjectionable for adults.

Keys to World Peace

The special delights of the essay are too often neglected by the average reader. The froth, the diversity, profundity, and impish wit of an essay-collection can be equalled by no other form of writing. In A Century of the Catholic Essay, Father Gross brings you the essay at its glorious best. You'll find subjects for every taste; you'll find smiles, ideas and inspiration. The beauty of poetry is too often left unheeded by the majority of readers.

The Golden Book of Catholic Poetry, a companion to Father Gross' book, by Alfred Noyes, is a comprehensive anthology of poetry by Catholics or poetry embodying some essentially Catholic idea. In this book Noyes contributes his effort to save a portion of the world's inheritance of Catholic art and literature. Both books will supply several hours of enjoyable reading.

What Do You Think?

Here Are Views of a Few

That universal human trait, the gripe, which seems to be so evident when two or more fellows get together for a bull session, is our topic of discussion for this week. As we toured the campus we stealthily tiptoed up behind an unsuspecting student, peered cautiously right and left, and whispered into his ear, "What is your pet peeve?"

Measure editor Cliff Riede from Louisville, Kentucky, dislike vehemently that Bugs Bunny type of person who must read over your shoulder and chew his carrots at the same time.

My good friend Ed Ditter raised his nose from his comic book and said, "These people who insist on crossing their legs in a theatre and get their shoes against my pants leg are my chief goat-getters. I've got another one, too—askers of foolish questions." Considering myself sufficiently reproached I bowed out of Ed's sanctum sanctorum.

Jack Smith, soph accountant from Rockford, Ill., usually gets irked at the fellow who, by some remark in class, is responsible for those surprise tests or extra portions of assignment that an instructor slaps on now and then. Jack's got followers there.

"None since I got out of the Navy; I'm used to anything now," was the way Joe Ferguson of Columbus, Ohio, put it. And the reasoning of a few others went along the same lines.

Thinking that the boys would pour their hearts out to me when I asked them this question, I was all ready for a comparatively easy time. Little did I realize that so many of the fellows are happy and completely satisfied. Nothing seems to bother them any more. It might seem to some that the war certainly must have knocked a lot of rough edges off individual's temperaments.

CAMPUS CAPERS

Hello there, you lucky people. Don your specs and let's be off again. Frank Cleary... There! I got his name in the column like he asked me to do. Say, I wonder what he and Murray did to chase Jack Caron out of the room and all the way down to Bloomington. Wait till Jack finds out that his room at I. U. is under some stairway with only nine other guys. Drexel was never like that.

Somebody suggested that they slip the fight song into the record player in the cafeteria some day. What's the matter, don't you like the old dishes? Those onloned hamburgers were sure good the other night; the one I had tasted better each time I ate it.

Thought while lying horizontally watching the celestial astronomical display (take it easy the first time; I'll wait for you) the other evening: When does the next comet leave for Venus?... It was about as crowded as a St. Joe pep rally around the campus last week-end. I'll stay around here more often after this; seconds in ice cream and everything.

Wonder how St. Joe's Mike Jacobs (that match-maker, Father Maziarz) is doing on his getting dates for the dateless for Homecoming. Saw one guy streak out of the office faster than the Giacobi-Zinner comet; he was tearing his hair out by the roots and blubbering the name Lena. Who's the guy that broke that plate in the cafeteria a few days ago at just the most inopportune moment? No doubt he'll be drawn and quartered for Thanksgiving... How did you make out on Saturday's football games? I have it on good authority that the men who make book cleaned up on the outcomes; and don't they. always? Then there were those who weren't so fortunate, whimpering, "some week-ends a guy can't make five hundred dollars.... Looks like quite a Homecoming this season; hope that wood-pile doesn't combust spontaneously again.

There will be lots of folks moving in for the week-end; maybe even one of the old old-timers might get lost on the campus.

Glad the sulphurless water is back to stay; the boys can start taking showers again now and then.... And I wonder how the initiation plans are coming along. Certainly hope everybody is satisfied with them. But then, you can't please everybody all of the time.... Might not be anything to it, but if you get the chance to hear Fred Waring next Friday morn at 10 over NBC, take it. Even if there is nothing special, he still throws out a good show.... You can have this table now, Evie, I'm leaving.

Once More and Out You Go!

REED-INGS

By JACK REED

Our boys did all right in the Loras contest last week-end 13-0. Not many points, but enough to annex their second win of the year, which makes the Puma record stand at twenty wins, three ties, and no losses. . . Looks like a great season, too, and with the freshman class we have coming up, there should be some great seasons to come.

Saturday is the big day. . . our first home game and one of the most important of the current season. And to top all that off it will be featured as the annual Homecoming. . . the game in the afternoon and a big dance that night. . . Big week end!

Day after tomorrow will see the students go all out at the pep rally which always precedes the Homecoming games. . . let's all turn out and make this a pep meeting that all future students will have to shoot high to equal. The main event of the rally will be the bonfire, but speeches and yells will also high-light the evening.

Butler got beat again last week end. Our game this week should give us something to go on in regard to our chances with the Indianapolis eleven.

Looks like the Pumas are going to be tops in basketball come winter. Jiggs Huysman looks as good as ever, as he carries his six-foot-six frame over the floor at the newly remodeled fieldhouse. And what with three floors to practice and compete on this year, St. Joseph's will be going after basketball in a big way.

Seems as though we go after that number 13 in a big way. . . with both the A and B teams scoring 13 points in their games last week end and the main game being played on the 13th.

The intramural football contests being played in front of Science Hall during the week are drawing quite the crowds. . . there is something about high school games that really makes the fans sit up and take notice. . . although tap games are preferred the gangsters like to rough it up a little now and then.

By the way, our hats are off to Dave Jones and Charley Plozek, who co-captained the B squad in their game with Culver. Charley is still bothered by a pre-season knee injury; Dave, who is the oldest man on the Puma team this year, is speedily developing into the halfback we always thought him to be.

Dubuque Bows to Puma Power Toughest Contest Coming Saturday

Ind. State Clash Rubber Match For Scharfmenn

Facing their biggest test of the season to date, St. Joseph's unbeaten and unscored upon Pumas will clash with Indiana State's rough and ready Sycamores Saturday in the first Collegeville Homecoming game since 1942.

This encounter will be the rubber match, as both elevens hold one victory in a two-game series. In 1924 State trounced the Pumas 45-0; in 1942 St. Joe evened the count with a 19-7 victory.

Led by Coach Wally Marks, a former grid star at the University of Chicago who was just recently discharged from the United States Army, Indiana State has won one game and dropped three so far this season. They opened the campaign with a 13-0 defeat of Illinois Normal, but since then have bowed to Wabash, Butler, and Evansville on successive Saturdays.

Only Seconds From Victory

The defeat by Butler, 13-7, was administered in the last 30 seconds, as the Sycamores had led 7-6 throughout most of the contest. The other two setbacks were not by any means decisive, and this week the Blue and White hope to rebound back into the win column at the expense of the Pumas.

Those lads from Terre Haute boast a number of speedy and capable veteran backs in Bob Brown, Bjoren Ingebrigtsen, Julian McGill, Oscar Reeder, and Ma Wolsey, who operate behind a big and powerful forward wall. They also claim to be the possessors of four of the best ends in the Indiana Conference. These are Bob Chenhall, Bill Clarkson, Stan Sajko, and Ross Lambert, who also played with the University of Wyoming while in the service. All this adds up to a Saturday afternoon of hard work for the Pumas.

Invincibles Lead Two Tie for Second

Two top-notch passing combinations were preparing for a gruelling duel for first honors in the Xavier football league this week as the teams entered the second series of play. The Invincibles, despite only one victory thus far, were undefeated and led by a matter of percentage points Leo Tonner's fast-moving Tigers.

Hunt to Tweedie and Tonner to Walters proved to be the most potent items in the aerial battle for top honors thus far. Still eyeing first place were the 49ers and the Bengals, locked in a tie for third. Meanwhile, despite occasional flashes of brilliance, Tony Spitzig's Lions found themselves in the loop's cellar. The standings as of Sunday, September 13th:

Invincibles	1	0	3	.625
Tigers	2	1	2	.500
49ers	1	1	2	.500
Bengals	1	1	2	.500
Lions	1	3	1	.300

13-0 Conquest over Loras Sets Undefeated String at 23

Returning from Dubuque with a 13-0 conquest over Loras College, the Pumas set their undefeated string at twenty-three games. They are still batting a thousand against Loras with three victories in as many contests.

The Scharfmenn scored in the waning moments of the first quarter on a long pass from Ellspermann to Frank Stone, who crossed the goal line standing up. Tom Quinn split the H to convert.

Ellspermann scored number two early in the third period after the Pumas started from deep in their own territory. Two first downs were racked up in quick succession after a Loras punt; then Henry Knight broke loose through the opposing line for forty yards.

While the Pumas were traveling toward Dubuque Saturday afternoon, the B. team was battling Culver Military Academy to a 13-13 tie. Briede scored both markers for the underdogs. His first came from six yards out; his second on an 85-yard dash.

to the Dubuque twenty. Pudge then replaced Knight, who together with Swierczek and Ellspermann covered the remaining ground with Ellspermann running wide to score from four yards out. Quinn's kick from placement was blocked, making the score St. Joe 13 and Loras 0.

Near the end of the first half Grande took a Dubuque fumble out of mid-air on the Loras twenty.

ty. Loras took over again on downs, but after making a first down were forced to kick. Roy Stone broke through to block the kick. In the succession of downs that followed the Pumas made a first on the eight, but time ran out before the score could be produced.

Another Puma score misfired mid-way through the last quarter when the reserves drove from their own forty to the Loras two-foot marker. It was first and goal to go. On the first down St. Joe was set back fifteen yards for holding. A pass was incomplete, and two line plays netted about five yards. Grande came in to attempt a field goal on the fourth down, but it fell short.

Mares was a constant threat to the Pumas all afternoon, with his speed and shiftness. Elliot was also a thorn in their side.

Council Goes Into Action At First Meeting This Year

The Student Council of St. Joseph's College met for the first time last Monday evening in Science Hall. The Rev. Edward A. Maziarz, C.P.P.S., as student welfare director, will act as faculty advisor for the council.

Election of officers was held at the meeting which found Ben Bladel, senior, chosen president. Supporting him will be Robert Taugher, vice-president; John Riley, secretary; and James Buckley, treasurer.

Unlike former years when the council was composed of men elected from each class, membership is now made up of the four class presidents together with the presidents of the leading campus organizations.

Other Members of Council

Father Maziarz, as faculty advisor for the council, will be aided dance in Rensselaer Armory. SUNDAY AFTERNOON—Open house on the campus. Judging of hall decorations. Featuring the rally Friday night will be talks by the Rev. Edward Roof, C.P.P.S., athletic director; Mr. Richard Scharf, head football coach; Mr. Arthur Cosgrove, head basketball coach; Mr. James Puett, line coach; Mr. Fred Jones, intramural athletic director; and team captain Ted Swierczek. Seniors and other players on the team will be called upon to express their more or less extemporaneous sentiments. The band will play at the rally. In all probability a police escort will be provided to lead the cars and band when they parade to the football field Saturday afternoon.

According to the Rev. Edward Maziarz, C.P.P.S., student welfare director, there will be late Masses in the chapel on Sunday morning for the dance-goers. Times of these Masses will be announced later.

First Tests Now On

With the first tests and grading periods just around the corner, a furrowed brow on the students is not uncommon. Professors are now giving examinations in their respective classes to enable them to get their marks in by the deadline, Oct. 19.

Although it is rather early in the semester for exams, the results obtained will be used as a criterion of the students' ability. Grades will not be sent to parents, but kept in the office and referred to whenever a student has some difficulty.

A constitution has been drawn up for the council and will be acted upon at a later meeting of the group.

Vet Club Hears Jones

The reading of the Constitution by Dave Jones, president of the Father Falter Post, was the main concern in a meeting held of that organization Thursday, Oct. 10. Approximately seventy-five veterans were present.

Eligibility for membership consists in being a practical Catholic, a patriotic American, and a former member of the armed forces. A constitutional by-law recommends that all members attend Mass and receive Holy Communion every Friday morning. This is not compulsory.

Dwenger to Meet Sunday

Foremost business on the agenda of the Dwenger Mission Unit at their meeting, Oct. 20, will be the decision as to whether a new study club, organized to aid missionaries spiritually, will be admitted into the unit.

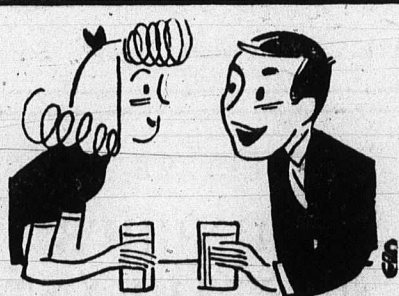

A committee of three—John Klopke, Richard Greve, and Donald Vogl—were appointed at the last meeting to study the possibilities in its organization and acceptance.

Writes Thesis

Returning from the graduate school of Notre Dame University where he spent the past year completing courses leading to a Doctorate of Philosophy, the Rev. Cletus F. Dirksen, C.P.P.S., has resumed his position as assistant professor of economics.

Father Dirksen is faced with the task of squeezing in enough time outside of classes to work on his dissertation. The exact topic is as yet not defined; it will however, most probably be a discussion of Richard Hooker's theory of Church-State relations.

The manuscript for a volume entitled Economic Factors of Delinquency, prepared by Father Dirksen has been accepted by the Bruce Publishing Co. of Milwaukee. Bruce has set no date for publication.

In 1941 Father Dirksen received his M. A. from Catholic University, Washington, D. C. He had been teaching at St. Joseph's previously. Before going to Notre Dame to study, he taught for three semesters in the Labor School of Xavier University, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Davey's Bowlers Play Two Matches

A bowling team, which will represent St. Joseph's College in the 16-team Jasper County League, has been formed by Hugh Davey, senior from Frankfort, Ind. Besides Captain Davey, the team includes John Cangany, John Judge, Tom Andres, and Herman Burkhardt.

Playing once a week, the boys have already bowled two matches, winning two of three games from the K of C's and two of three from the Farm Bureau team. This week's opponents will be the Chamberlin Ice Cream Co. outfit.

Bladel Leads Senior Group Other Classes Elect Officers

To represent its interests during this school year the senior class elected Ben Bladel, Monroe, Mich., as its president in a class meeting held in Science Hall last Wednesday evening. The Rev. Joseph Scheuer, C.P.P.S., presided at the meeting.

Chosen for the other official posts were Tom Scollard, Indianapolis, Ind., vice-president; Allan Brier, Gary, Ind., secretary; and George Ellspermann, Evansville, Ind., treasurer.

Only other business discussed at this time concerned the type of meetings to be held in the future. Class meetings will be called, not just officer meetings.

Sophs Choose Riley

At the meeting of the sophomore class, held last Wednesday evening in the refectory, John Riley, Lima, Ohio, was elected president. The Rev. Charles Rueve, C.P.P.S., called the meeting to order.

Chosen by the class to assist Riley were Charles Hodges, Petersburg, Ind., vice-president; Joseph Sloyan, Chicago, secretary; and Warren Freeman, Indianapolis, treasurer. Sloyan was elected to his office by unanimous vote.

Frosh Name Collins

At elections of the freshman class held last Wednesday evening, Richard Collins, Chicago, was chosen president. The Rev. Edward Maziarz, C.P.P.S., supervised the meeting which was held in the college theatre.

Others elected to office were Landon Myers, Brazil, Ind., vice-president; Tom Jordan, Indianapolis, secretary; and Jack Fredlake, South Bend, treasurer.

Buckley Junior Head

When the Junior class met, Oct. 9, its main object was the election of Officers. James Buckley was elected president on the first ballot.

It took three ballots before Gene Ryan was chosen vice-president. Robert Riley and John McKenna were picked as secretary and treasurer respectively.

Plans were laid for another meeting in the near future, after the exams and homecoming. President Buckley will notify all members of the exact date.

Xavier Drama Group Looks to Ballmann

Election of officers was imperative business for the old members of the Curtain Club at their first meeting, Oct. 13. Under the supervision of the Rev. Lawrence Heiman, C.P.P.S., director, Donald Ballmann, secretary of the club last year, directed the balloting for president. He was elected.

Officers chosen to assist him were: George McDevitt, vice-president; Robert Reinhart, secretary; Louise DeBrosse, treasurer; Pete Giovannini, critic; Leo Toner, Richard Wise, and Donald Vogl, program committee.

Admission of the new members of Xavier Hall to the club followed.

An address by Father Heiman in which he welcomed the new members and made suggestions for the plans of the year climaxed the meeting.
